Fee information for new entrants in 2023-24

This document provides information about the prescribed fee caps that apply to individual higher education providers and the maximum fees chargeable by that provider to new students starting courses in 2023-24. It shows the fee information for providers who are registered with the Office for Students (OfS) in the 'Approved (fee cap)' category as at 24 January 2023. A log of changes to this document is shown below.

Data source and coverage

Fee limits shown here are the maximum fees chargeable by a provider to new students starting courses in 2023-24, with information provided for each different course type offered by the provider. Information is included for providers who are registered with the OfS in the 'Approved (fee cap)' category, whether or not they hold an approved access and participation plan.

Throughout, these fee limits are applicable in respect of 'qualifying persons' on 'qualifying courses' (who are also the focus of access and participation plans). These are prescribed by regulations made under the Higher Education and Research Act 2017. More information can be found in Regulatory Notice 1 at: www.officeforstudents.org.uk/publications/regulatory-notice-1-access-and-participation-plan-guidance/

For providers that have an approved access and participation plan, information has been sourced in respect of the relevant plan at 24 January 2023 as follows:

- For providers that have an access and participation plan that came into force for either 2020-21, 2021-22 or 2022-23 (and is expected to remain in force for 2023-24), the maximum fee chargeable by the provider for each course type has been collected via the annual fee information document. More information about the annual fee information document can be found in the guidance at: www.officeforstudents.org.uk/publications/annual-fee-information-collection-guidance/
- For providers that have a plan that comes into force for 2023-24, the maximum fee chargeable by the provider for each course type in 2023-24 has been collected within the access and participation plan approval process.

For providers that do not have an approved access and participation plan that will be in force for 2023-24, the maximum fee chargeable by the provider for any course type is defined by the relevant fee cap prescribed in regulations made under the Higher Education and Research Act 2017. The information shown here for these providers reflects the prescribed fee caps for 2023-24, correct as at 24 January 2023.

Approval of access and participation plans is an ongoing process and plans may be varied (and re-approved) at any time. The maximum fees detailed here may change as a result of variations to plans, or approval after 24 January 2023 of new access and participation plans that will come into force for 2023-24.

Legislative context

Maximum tuition fees for the 2023-24 academic year in England have been prescribed by the Secretary of State for Education in regulations made under the Higher Education and Research Act 2017. In completing their access and participation plan, a provider may choose to set their maximum fees at or below these prescribed fee caps.

The basic and higher fee caps prescribed in this way are shown in columns I and J of the data tables. The fee caps differ by course type and whether or not the provider held a valid Teaching Excellence Framework (TEF) award at the relevant time. The relevant time for holding a valid TEF award is prescribed by regulations made under the Higher Education and Research Act 2017 at: www.legislation.gov.uk/ukpga/2017/29/schedule/2/enacted

The prescribed fee caps listed in columns I and J of the data tables are based on a provider's regulatory status as of 24 January 2023. The regulatory status of providers is subject to change; up to date registration status information can be found in the OfS register at: www.officeforstudents.org.uk/advice-and-guidance/the-register/the-ofs-register/

Further information about the current prescribed fee caps can be found at: www.officeforstudents.org.uk/advice-and-guidance/promoting-equal-opportunities/access-and-participation-plans/fee-limits/

Important information

Users should refer to the provider's website for further details of the fee levels for individual courses. This is because:

- Providers may charge a range of fees for any given course type (for example, for different subject areas or for provision that is delivered through a sub-contractual partnership).
- Maximum fees chargeable to students who started their courses prior to 2023-24 were detailed in access and participation plans and/or access agreements that were approved in relation to the student's year of entry.
- For part-time students, the fees charged may be dependent on the intensity of study and/or the study content for each student.
- Fee information for 2023-24 will be published separately from a provider's approved access and participation plan if that plan came into force from 2020-21, 2021-22 or 2022-23.

If a particular course type has not been returned by a provider, the OfS assumes that this course type is not run at the provider. Consequently, without an access and participation plan being varied (and approved by the OfS) the provider would not be able to charge above the basic fee if it were to accept new students for these course types in 2023-24. Course types that the OfS assumes a provider is not running are shown in the data tables with an asterisk (*).

The OfS records a copy of all the access and participation plans and access agreements that have been approved for a provider. Individual URLs are included in column K of the data tables and, for all providers, from the OfS website at: www.officeforstudents.org.uk/advice-and-guidance/the-register/search-for-access-and-participation-plans

Change log

Version 1.0 9 February 2023 - Initial publication

Version 1.1 29 March 2023 - Correction to TEF award status affecting some providers

Fee information for new entrants in 2023-24, by provider and course type [note 1] The amount shown is the maximum chargeable in an academic year.

[note 2] Maximum fees chargeable for sandwich, Erasmus and overseas study years that are within accelerated degrees are not shown separately here.

Further information about the prescribed fee caps for such courses can be found at:

www.officeforstudents.org.uk/advice-and-guidance/promoting-equal-opportunities/access-and-participation-plans/fee-limits/

If a particular course type has not been returned by a provider, the OfS assume that this course type is not run at the provider and it is shown in the data tables with an asterisk (*).

(#) Approval of the provider's 2023-24 fee levels is pending.
